CELEBRATING EARTH HERITAGE, SUSTAINING LOCAL COMMUNITIES

Geoparks are single, unified geographic areas of exceptional geodiversity, which are rich in sites and landscapes of international geological value. They are managed with a holistic concept of protection, education and sustainable development in which local communities are actively involved.

The Apuan Alps Regional Park joined the Global Geoparks Networks in 2011. A fascinating orographic complex, the Geopark boasts high peaks and deep valleys, karstic underground caves and sinkholes, marbles and 250 geosites testifying of its outstanding geodiversity.
